1 We're Fat Beehive and we do web stuff.

We work with not for profit organisations (and budgets) of all shapes and sizes and we're very proud of the company we keep. Our enthusiasm, openness and desire to provide high quality and affordable work dovetails with the spirit of the not for profit sector.

We're a small company and have an office in the Shoreditch triangle near Old Street, London. We work in close consultation with our clients and pride ourselves on speaking in plain English. We're always keen to meet people and discuss things face to face, if only to explore options.

“Working with Fat Beehive has proven that being part of a team really makes things happen. Their professionalism and expertise goes without saying, but what really sets them apart is that they actually listen to what the client wants, respond with a solution almost immediately and deliver great results.”

These four elements will give you a professionally designed website with full control over the content. With hosting and support, you have everything you need to run your website including help and advice.

“I’m really pleased we selected Fat Beehive to re-design and host our website. The Fat Beehive team took the time to understand our needs, provided insightful and helpful ideas (without resorting to techy-speak), and were great to work with. They were always very responsive to any queries or requests and supported us throughout the process.”
